About the Cover Artist

My name is Marc Andrade and I am currently a college student at North Park University. I am on a road to becoming a graphic designer and to spreading my imagination to the rest of the world. I spend most of my time drawing in my room, but I also like to explore the city of Chicago and see what I can find. The city of Chicago is a gigantic canvas where a lot of murals are painted. I pass by some almost every day and hope that one day one of the walls will be a creation of my own.

Acknowledgment

We would like to thank the two art teachers at North Park University for their assistance in securing the artwork for this issue: Maya C. Durham Rayner and Kelly B. VanderBrug. See pages 18, 41, 50, 56, and 74 for other artwork from their students.

Mission

The mission of the Illinois Reading Council is to provide support and leadership to educators as they promote and teach lifelong literacy.

Vision

The Illinois Reading Council advocates quality literacy opportunities for all learners and serves as a primary organization that provides educators at all levels access to research, materials, and methodologies to promote and teach lifelong literacy and learning. Support of an active, well-organized system of local and special interest councils and state committees provides a viable network for communication, exchange of information, and grassroots involvement of a diverse membership. The Illinois Reading Council’s publications, special projects, conferences, and workshops stimulate the personal and professional growth of educators.
