Dr. Maria Walther – “Peace, Joy, and BOOKS!!!” K-8

Together, we'll take a peek into primary, intermediate, and middle-school classrooms to discover intentional ways to foster literate citizenship. Then, Maria will share ten different techniques to promote books along with the joy and power of reading. Leave with practical ideas to engage even your most vulnerable readers.

Dr. Brian Tucker - “Reading the World: Thinking, Talking, and Learning with Informational Texts”

Twenty-first century citizens need to be ready to not only the history of the past, but also what is going on in the around them today, but also be prepared for the world of tomorrow! Learn how to foster students' natural curiosity by utilizing classroom-tested strategies for engaging learners with a wide variety of informational texts. You'll leave with a collection of book titles and demonstration lessons to engage your learners when you walk into your classroom tomorrow morning!
