

The Very Hungry Caterpillar

by Eric Carle

1. In this story the caterpillar was very hungry and spent most of his time eating. Look in the newspaper for different types of food. Make a chart of your own and classify the food that you find into four different groups. Paste the names of the different types of foods below each heading.

Look in the newspaper for additional pictures to plan a healthy meal for your family. Paste them on a large paper bag so that you will remember to look for them at the grocery store. Try to include at least one picture for each food group.
